Tema Fest – An African American Celebration

Held over Labor Day weekend, Tema Fest is a two-day celebration presented by the The African-American Cultural Society of Scotland County Inc. (AACS). Tema Fest is a celebration and education of the cultural, history, educational, and spiritual contributions of the African-American community to our society.

Exhibits will include: unity car and bike show, musical performances, art, literature, food, dancers, drummers, a marching band competition, a step competition, a queen mother pageant, speakers, vendors, and a special exhibit of face and body painting artist featuring Tiffany Beckler of "Skin Wars"

Also featured at the event will be "Black History 101 – A Mobile Museum"

The museum has over 5,000 rare treasures among its collection including original documents from historic Black figures whose contributions helped shape the United States. Artifacts in this unparalleled mobile collection represent items from the categories of slavery, Jim Crow era, music, sports, the Civil Rights and Black Power era, and popular culture. The exhibit will be manned by Khalid El-Hakim and Professor Griff of Public Enemy.

Held in downtown Laurinburg, the event runs Saturday, September 3rd and Sunday September 4th from 9:00 am to 6:00 pm, and includes a religious service Sunday morning.

Come out and celebrate The Tema Fest as we engage the community in teaching, sharing, and experiencing the traditions of African Americans. For additional information, visit us at:

Langston Hughes and Jazz - A Great Combination

Presented Saturday, September 24th at the Storytelling and Arts Center in downtown Laurinburg, The Langston Hughes Project is a multimedia musical concert performance of Langston Hughes's kaleidoscopic jazz poem suite. The performance features "Ask Your Mama," Hughes' homage in verse and music to the struggle for artistic and social freedom at home and abroad at the beginning of the 1960s. This a twelve-part epic poem, which Hughes scored, features musical cues drawn from blues and Dixieland, gospel songs, boogie woogie, bebop and progressive jazz, Latin "cha cha" and Afro-Cuban mambo music, German lieder, Jewish liturgy, West Indian calypso, and African drumming -- a creative masterwork.

The program is brought to life by Ron McCurdy Professor of Music at the Thornton School of Music at the University of Southern California (USC). Besides his teaching duties and creation and management of the Langston Hughes Project, Dr. McCurdy is internationally renowned as a consultant to the Grammy Foundation educational programs and also serves as director of the National Grammy Vocal Jazz Ensemble.

Beginning at 7:00 on Saturday, September 24th, this special night of music, poetry and imagery is brought to you by the Scotland County Arts Council and will be hosted by the Storytelling and Arts Center of the Southeast (SACS). Located at 131 South Main Street in Laurinburg. The Center will hold only one showing of this traveling show before it returns to Los Angeles. This is the only presentation in the Southeast United States until it returns to Charleston for a single show in February.

Tickets for the show are only $25 -- $20 for students, military and seniors. For more information and to order tickets visit:

The Fall means Festival Month

September 24 - Kuumba: Presented by the African American Heritage Committee, The annual celebration of our rich African-American culture is known as Kuumba. Kuumba means "creativity" and the festival lives up to that promise. Kuumba features dancing, drumming, storytelling and socializing, as well as a musical menu that runs from gospel to jazz. Held in Market Park in Laurinburg. Visit www.kumbafestnc.org

October 1 – Scotland County Highland Games: If you've never experienced a Highland Games, you owe it to yourself to join us. Watch our lads compete in traditional events, and take in the piping and drumming, dancing, and Tartan glory associated with this unique culture. Held at the historic John Blue Complex in Laurinburg. For more information, visit: www.schgnc.org

October 8/9 – John Blue Cotton Festival: It's one thing to read books about rural life in the South 100 or more years ago. It's another to experience it for yourself and celebrate with descendants of the people who tilled the land here a century ago. And that's what the John Blue Festival is all about—bringing together the old and the new as we pay homage to our agricultural tradition. Also held at the historic John Blue Complex. Visit www.johnbluecottonfestival.com

October 15/16 – Storytelling Festival of Southeast: This unique and nationally famous festival includes multiple performance stages to assure you'll hear the best storytelling this side of Garrison Keillor. Get ready to be utterly spellbound as internationally renowned and honored performers spin their magic and touch every emotion from laughter to horror to tears. (Yes, they're that good). For more information visit: www.storyartscenter.org or call (910) 277-3599.
